

Track 3: Learning to lead in communities of mission

How to reach the UK:
Communities in the mission field,
equipping on our frontlines

What are we made for?

Work!

Dilbert's view of work

DILBERT

BY SCOTT ADAMS

WHAT IS WORK?

What is it's value, scope, significance?

"In the Bible's view, 'work' encompasses the whole range of activities which build civilisation and society and which employ the resources of creation in the cause of human flourishing."

Tim Keller, Every Good Endeavour

EQUIPPING US TO MAKE MISSIONAL DISCIPLES IN THE WORKPLACE

The Gospel and work

God has not given up on work

God's calling gives our work ...

- Dignity
- Motivation
- Accountability

Gospel distinctives

- Maximise contribution to human flourishing
- Take work for which we're suited
- See our work in God's larger story
- Seek excellence
- Compass for work
- Know it's not everything

QUESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION

GLOBALLY, 98% of Christians are neither envisioned nor equipped for mission in 95% of their waking lives. BUT, just imagine if they were ...

Mark Greene, The Great Divide, LICC

How might this view of work encourage us as we seek to make missional disciples on our frontlines?

How will it change how you disciple other workers?

